The Grasping Corporations Running Legal Risks—A Falling Off of Over Fifty Per Cent of Business—Stock-brokers Leasing Wires and Furnishing Their Own Operators—The Knights of Labor and Private Capitalists Backing the Brotherhood.

Staff Cor. of the Am. Press Association.

NEW YORK, July 20.—I had hoped to reached here before the consummation of the great strike of the telegraphers, being uncertain whether thereafter the American Press Association's wire could be commanded. I am fortunate, however, in finding it unaffected by that momentous occurrence. It is, of course, the principal topic of conversation here on 'Change and among business men everywhere. There is a pretense of being able to handle their business on the part of the companies here at their central offices, but it is a mere pretense. All the district offices in the city are closed to reinforce the central. Even then in numbers of operators the central offices fall far short of the usual working force, apart from the fact that in efficiency they hardly count two for one. But those district offices are the business gathering of the corporations, and the falling off in business is enormous. Were this last not the fact, the force the Western Union musters here would not even answer for a make shift. Not only have the operators in the city, (and I suppose the same plans have been resorted to in other large cities) been called to the central office, but instruments in numerous country offices have been closed to reinforce the central. Sources of revenue are thus cut off, proportioned probably to what is gained, and it amounts to the robbing of Peter to pay Paul. Instantly on Thursday, after the strike the business of the companies fell off not less, probably, than 50 per cent, and outside of the Brotherhood of operators it is questionable if there are efficient telegraphers on the continent sufficient to do more than fifty per cent of the work performed up to the time of the strike. In speculating upon the ability of the corporations to hold out against the Brotherhood it is not a question whether they can do business, but whether they can do all their business profitably. Telegraph companies are public servants, and the same laws apply to them as to common carriers. As the latter are required by law to receive goods for transportation and to transport them with due diligence in the matter of time, and as the courts have held that a difference between them and their employees in regard to remuneration is no excuse for not carrying out their implied contract with each individual, so any person whose business is dependent upon a telegraph company may require it to send his message promptly, strike or no strike, and if it fails to do so, he can recover any damage which he may sustain. Every hour the companies are now risking these liabilities in addition to the possible errors that may result disastrously to commercial men. The masses of the people are in full sympathy with the operators, for several reasons. First, there is the growing feeling of opposition to monopolies generally, of which the Western Union is among the most objectionable. Second, the work of the operator, especially in central offices, is most laborious and taxing upon the vital forces. Not only is the sense of hearing kept continuously on the alert hour by hour without intermission, but thought must be continuously concentrated upon one message after another that no mistakes may occur. Third, it is known that the earnings of the Western Union particularly have been large, and that a systematic reduction of salaries has been made whenever opportunity has offered. And lastly, large numbers favor strikes on general principles of political economy. Orderly conducted, many look upon them as a sort of safety valve against what, if pent up, would result in ruinous explosion, to-wit, the capital and labor conflict. These hold it to be the unquestioned lesson of history that capital is inherently aggressive, and spurred on by competition it would crush out all small undertakings, trample on individual rights and reduce brain and muscle below the status now held by those commodities in Europe.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The strikers yesterday afternoon held a meeting at No. 8 Horatio street. It was 1 o'clock when the hall of the building was filled, and five minutes past that the meeting was called to order by Chairman John Mitchell. The hall was unlighted, and its semi-darkness was relieved only by the light coming in the windows at the rear. When everything was ready Mr. Mitchell introduced Mr. H. C. Traphagen, who referred to the fact that President T. V. Powderly, of the General Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor, was present. As Mr. Traphagen concluded, a man was heard inquiring if the operators would stand by the linemen, and the response, half drowned with cheers, was "always." Mr. Mitchell read a dispatch from Chicago, stating 700,000 men of other trades and professions had agreed to stand by the operators and furnish money if wanted.

A reply message thanking the wage workers was read. Mr. Jas. Campbell, of the Glass-blowers Association of Pittsburgh, said the men who controlled the monopolies of this country flaunted the black flag of slavery. Robert W. Price, a miner of Maryland, gave his ideas of making a strike, and counseled the men to stand firm. Cheers were given as fifty new members joined the Brotherhood.

The Chairman read a letter from Thos. A. Edison: "Send word if telegraphers want money. If they do, call on me." Another letter from a broker tendering his financial support, was read.

Mr. Seymour said he had received a letter from George H. Ellery, ex-President of the Franklin Company, who sent word the telegraphers could obtain any amount of money by sending to him.

A telegram from Chicago was read, saying the theatres were giving nightly and daily performances in aid of the telegraph strikers, and that the merchants of St. Louis were subscribing money that was being received by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in aid of the operators.

Mr. P. J. Morris then spoke, cautioning the men against intoxicating liquors. A resolution was adopted declaring until they have gained the victory they pledge themselves to abstain from intoxicating drinks. The meeting adjourned until 11 a. m. to-day.

At 9 o'clock the linemen, with spurs and pleyers, will meet in a hall on Canal street and march to the hall. They have engaged a band of music, and will have flags flying on which will be: "Give me liberty or give me death."

General Thomas T. Eckert: "We will pull through beyond doubt. I don't think the operators have acted fairly. We would have listened to their demands. In fact the committee was sending up to hear their grievances. We have treated and intend to treat our employees fairly. The operators acted without any apparent deliberation and in a selfish manner. They throw the country upside down for their own benefit. We would have heard anything."

When Henry Clewes was asked what he thought of it, he said: "I am of the opinion it could and should have been averted on a fair compromise basis."

"How will the strike affect commercial interests?"

"Business must be more or less dis-jointed, though I think it is well it should have occurred during the dull period, as the injury will be materially lessened. We will now be compelled to resort to the old way of conducting business, by mail, and this will afford an opportunity to have a greater appreciation of the service now rendered by that department."

"It is not likely to cause a panic?"

"I hardly think so, though another element to increase the distrust was the difficulties of the trunk lines, which necessitated a meeting to-day, and I think if their action should result unfavorably Wall street may undergo another squall."

"All my sympathies are with the operators," said another prominent Wall street man, "and I should be glad to see them succeed. It would show the company that it would be wise to respect the demands of those who spend their lives in the service."

CINCINNATI, July 20.—Everything is quiet about the telegraph offices to-day. All parties concerned are settling down to a determined strike upon the one hand and a determined resistance upon the other. The strikers' committee is parading the front of the door of the operating-room.

Upon passing the guards on the stairs with some difficulty the reporter found the operating-room supplied with forty-five operators. The most of them looked about them with the air of strangers. Among them was Manager Price, ticking away at an instrument as busy as the busiest.

"How is business?" asked the reporter of him.

"We have enough operators to handle business with reasonable promptness, though not a full force. We have three men at work on New York wires, and two each on Chicago and St. Louis wires. We are receiving new men all the time from the country and the vicinity, and I think in a few days we will be completely equipped again."

"How is the company getting along without you?" inquired the reporter of one of the Brotherhood on guard.

"They are getting no recruits. They boasted they had 30 men engaged. They really have only 24, including the chief operator, superintendent, manager, night chief operator, two or three assistants, and a dozen or so of 'dummies. These 'dummies' are persons who know nothing about the business, but are kept at the instruments to make a show. I tell you that the company can not hold out against us more than a day or two. It is a business requiring constant practice, great mental and bodily labor, and quickness. These 'plugs' they are raking and scraping up can't do the work."

"But can't they get the men from the country?"

"No, sir; they can't get competent men anywhere. There was a 'plug' came blustering around here from some private office and said he had Jay Gould to back him. We soon informed him that we had as much power backing us in the Knights of Labor as the company had in Jay Gould, and we proposed to demonstrate it before we were through."

"How about the students of telegraph schools?"

"Now you are joking. These students could not operate a single line in commercial business to save their necks, much less trunk lines and press dispatches. They do not amount to that," and the operator snapped his fingers in the air.

At the B. & O. office there is not a man at the instruments. Manager Capton says he will some time to-day get five or six good men with which he will get along until he can do better. The men are coming from a distance.

At the Mutual Union office they have one first class operator at work, and are doing business with great delay. One of the Mutual Union wires has been leased to P. H. Burt & Co., on Fourth street, and other stock brokers here and in New York for their exclusive use between Cincinnati and New York during the strike. It will be operated by men furnished by the brokers, and they will have their office here at No. 60 West Third street. Manager Lawler compliments the striking operators highly and says he does not believe they can get a better set of men. Chas. Kahn, Jr., J. W. Miller, F. A. Armstrong and other grain and provision brokers have gone to Chicago to avoid the delay by telegraph, in disposing of long deals, fearing a falling market.

Financial aid has been tendered the strikers by a number of Third street brokers. Their reasons for such a course are that in case the company gains its point so many good men will quit the service, or be blackballed, that the business of the brokers will be endangered. The proposed aid was declined. The men claim that they can hold out three months on what funds they have. They will then get aid from the Knights of Labor, and when that is exhausted it will be time enough to call upon the public.

Colonel Bob Miles has tendered the free use of the Grand Opera House for a mass meeting, and several prominent gentlemen have consented to address the meeting.

Since the strike was inaugurated the Brotherhood has received seventy new members and expect to add at the rate of five or ten each meeting, which indicates that interest in their success is taken by outside operators who were summoned here by the companies.

Out of the fifty men brought to this city by the Western Union Company, fully one-half have connected themselves with the organization, and refused to go to work, or pledge themselves not to go to work until the trouble has been settled.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The situation is improving rapidly. St. Louis has a full force and the Southwest is loyal. At the principal points in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana nobody has left. The whole force returned to work at St. Joseph, Mo., stating that they had been deceived. Five of them will return at Evansville, and five or six will go back in the morning at Cleveland. All the force at Columbus, O., are in the union, but they refused to strike. Superintendent Miller at Cincinnati, reported business clear last night except for Memphis. He says everything is "up" at Cleveland and Detroit. Superintendent Wallack, of the Indianapolis District, is very solid. Business is up in his district. Superintendent Dickey, at Omaha, reports that his office are well manned. Superintendent Clowry adds: "We have more men in Chicago to-night than we can use, and they are pouring in."

The Western Union officials have about 100 operators at work. They also said the service was going on with but little delay.

A reward of $500 is posted for the arrest and conviction of anyone cutting wires or destroying the company's property.

The feeling among the operators was that the companies had made their best effort in the first forty-eight hours, because they have been preparing for this emergency for weeks, and had provided themselves with lists of all available operators in the neighborhood whom they thought could be called into service. Thus, as half of these have declined to work and most of the others are incompetent, the operators claim to see their way clear for a satisfactory adjustment in the near future. They also claim that the company have no better facilities for procuring men than they have for persuading them to refuse to work, as they can offer equal inducement. There has been no dissension in the ranks, and the rule prohibiting their indulging in intoxicating liquors is being rigidly observed. The new members are initiated by regular appointed committees wherever they are found. One of the arguments of the men is, that while the company have a few capitalists backing them, the operators have the pledged support of 2,000,000 Knights of Labor, and, in their opinion, telegraphing will not be resumed to any extent until the corporations have made concessions. They also feel satisfied that the work is such that the public can not stand it long. Operators at way stations have informed the men that they notice messages to take an hour in transmitting which could be sent by a skillful operator in ten minutes.

The branch offices, with one exception, all closed, and nine out of every ten who were employed in them are with the strikers. They were the worst paid and hardest worked in the city, and consequently look to the success of the strike as their salvation.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 21.—There are only twenty-six operators at work and but half the usual business is being done.

CLEVELAND, July 21.—The Mutual Union here is not affected by the strike. The Western Union main office is working a full force of men.

CHICAGO, July 21.—It is claimed business is well in hand.

LOUISVILLE, July 21.—The Western Union is in bad straits, only two operators being at work.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Erastus Wyman, one of the Western Union directors, and President of the Great Northwestern Company, which controls nearly all the Canadian lines, said, so far as the Canadian lines were concerned, any compromise or concession to the strikers was simply an impossibility. To increase their compensation would destroy all the profits. This was because Parliament regulated the rate at which messages were sent in Canada. Only twelve offices paid salaries and these were in the large cities. All their other employees worked on commission. They employed about 5,000 men, and only half of these were on a strike. The only reason they struck was because they were compelled to join the Brotherhood, and their co-operation was secured by the operators in the United States in order to prevent importation from Canada, such as occurred in 1870. They had no grievance, as they were paid extra for all Sunday work, and there had been a constant increase of wages, instead of a reduction.

He had also heard that all the offices throughout the dominion are fully manned. He did not believe in yielding a single point to the strikers. He thought from what he had seen that the strike would not be a success.

Jay Gould said they did not propose to recognize any committee from the Brotherhood, and that if the employees of the company persisted in their present action, they would not get a cent. They had already made fools of themselves, and they would realize it before long.

At the office of the American Rapid Telegraph Company, the Superintendent said new hands were being gradually obtained, and with their automatic instruments at work no delay was experienced.

At the Baltimore & Ohio (Commercial) Telegraph Company, Manager Fitch said messages subject to delay were taken for all points excepting St. Louis and Louisville, where business is proceeding as usual.

The operators of the Gold and Stock telegraph Company determined to resign if called upon to serve the Western Union Company. At the Produce Exchange the effect of the strike was more seriously felt, and in consequence of a reduction in the force of operators, quotations received from Chicago and other Western points were very meager. The Postal Telegraph Com'y has put in some of its wires and rendered considerable assistance. Business, however is unusually dull. Business at the cotton exchange has also fallen off in consequence of the strike. Reports from the South slowly, and there is great delay in getting quotations.

A MORTGAGED CITY.

The Bank of Kentucky Laying Claim to a Part of the Town of Pottsville, Pa.

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 21.—Some thirty odd years ago, when the Schuylkill Bank of Philadelphia failed and the Bank of Kentucky assumed its obligations and took its assets, among other property which passed into its hands was a tract known as Lawton's addition to Pottsville. In 1853 this tract, consisting of seventy-eight acres, was purchased by Francis W. Hughes, and laid out in town lots. In buying the property Hughes gave two mortgages for parts of the purchase money. The mortgages were never fully satisfied, though from time to time Hughes continued paying on them. There still remains due, according to the claim of the Kentucky bank, $17,000. The lots were sold, and within the past twenty-five years the tract has become one of the most thickly settled portions of the town. Some five hundred buildings are on the unencumbered tract, most of them being the homes of working people. Included in the number are several of the finest residences and three or four industrial establishments. Ten streets traverse the tract, which comprises nearly a whole ward. The owners of these properties have been living in the belief that their titles were unclouded. The Bank of Kentucky, however, has finally become urgent for a settlement of its claim, the amount of which Mr. Hughes disputes, and, after frequent postponements of an amicable adjudication, the bank's attorneys decided to foreclose. The writs were issued out of the United States District Court by Chief Justice Morrison, and are being served by a Deputy Marshal on all the lot owners.

MASTODONIC BONES.

Remains of Jumbo's Ancient Predecessor Unearthed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 21.—In the town of Manlius, eight miles east of this city, the remains of an animal have been found. A huge molar, weighing about twenty-five pounds, and a piece of tusk nearly five feet long and eight inches in diameter in the thickest part were brought to this city. Other portions of the tusk and part of a shin bone were found. The remains lay about thirteen feet beneath the surface in a deposit of gravel. Prof. Boynton, who exposed the Cardiff giant fraud, says that these are the relics of a mastodon which must have been fully fourteen feet high, and probably weighed a third more than Jumbo. The tusks, he says, must have been at least eleven feet long. The animal lived in the post-pliocene period of the tertiary age. Professor Boynton is of the opinion that the remains were washed into the gravel pit where they were found. Professor Brown, instructor of natural history at Syracuse University, thinks the bones are those of a mammoth, rather than a mastodon. The tusks, he says, indicate one of the largest skeletons that has ever been exhumed. The tooth and the tusk are in a state of excellent preservation. The tip of the tusk shows the natural color of the ivory.

San Francisco Opium Ring.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The big opium seizure of January last year has a sequel in the arrest of ex-United States Commissioner of the Circuit Court O'Beirne and James Harkness. It has been known there was a big opium ring here, but the custom officers could not drop on it. Recently the Hawaiian Sugar Commission was sent out here to look after sugar importations, but was also instructed to investigate the opium cases. O'Beirne is charged with receiving a bribe of $1,500 from Harkness to influence his decision in a case pending in court, in which Harkness is charged with bribing a Government officer and conspiracy to defraud the Government by aiding in smuggling opium. Harkness is wealthy, owning large ranches in Monterey county, and it is expected his prosecution will break up the opium ring.

Barb Wire Injunction.

JOLIET, ILL., July 21.—The Lockstitch Fence Company, of this city, has been enjoined by Judge Blodgett from manufacturing any more barb-wire fence this year. The company works under a license from the Washburn & Moen manufacturing company, the great barb-wire monopolists of Massachusetts, which permits it to use but twenty-one machines and manufacture not over 2,000 tons of barb-wire a year. The Washburn & Moen company complains that the Joliet company has already manufactured more this year than the stipulated amount and has sued for damages.

Drowning of H. W. Lord.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The body of H. W. Lord, a son of ex-Congressman Lord, of Michigan, and recently a clerk in the patent office, was found floating in the Potomac by some fishermen. The men were ignorant and towed the body ashore at a point near Beall's Land, about eighty miles down the river, and buried it in the sand. It is supposed he fell from one of the river steamers.

A NEW YORK CHARITY.

Rewards to the Meritorious Blind Yearly Distributed.

An Example Worthy of Attention by Other Cities—Statue to Peter Cooper—Du Chaillu's New Book on the Viking Age.

Staff Cor. of the Am. Press Association.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The industrious blind in this city are objects of special charity, or rather reward, for the system of distributing money to them annually does not reach the idle, worthless and beggars, hence the term charity is too broad, indicating as it does help to those who cannot or will not help themselves. It was some years ago that a philanthropic spirit took possession of the municipal government and led to an annual appropriation of $20,000 for this purpose. Had the object been to aid indiscriminately this class of the afflicted ten times the amount would not be sufficient to answer the appeals for a share of the fund. This was illustrated the other day when the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections distributed the appropriation for this year. Only four hundred and eighty received assistance, while the applicants came to the commissioners' office in throngs, representing almost every nation, faith and creed. Christians and Mahomedans, Jews, gentiles and heathens, each gave to the crowd their peculiar dress and address. The blind American brushed against the sightless Turk, Chinese and Indian. It was a motley throng, full of life study, exciting sympathy and impersonating the text that the greatest of all virtues is charity.

The distribution was attended with no confusion, and was under the immediate direction of Superintendent Blake, who a few days before had sent to each one of the blind to be rewarded a postal card with the request that he or she should bring it to the office when the distribution was to be made. Mr. Byrnes by this means could identify the applicant and have at hand the memorandum of his or her place of residence. As an example of how the business was conducted, the case of Mr. Byrnes will serve. This receiver of the public gift was an old man, the ravages of old age on a once stalwart frame and active mind being shown in feebleness of gait and childish expression. In him the Superintendent recognized an old time friend.

"Mr. Byrnes, how are you?" Mr. Blake inquired.

"Oh, I am quite well, but I am troubled in moving about," Mr. Byrnes replied. "I can't see as well as I have hitherto," with a smile.

"You still live at 64 Varick street, Mr. Byrnes?" Mr. Blake asked next.

"Oh, yes, indeed. It is the best place for me, you know, though I know I'd like a change once in a while to vary monotony."

Mr. Byrnes being given a small white card on which was printed and written "Department of Public Charities and Correction, Donation to the Blind, Pay Mr. Byrnes $38." was led to another part of the hall. Here he received the amount from the paymaster who had the top of his desk filled with packages of greenbacks. Mr. Byrnes evinced his pleasure in smiles and brief but sincere expressions of gratitude.

Mr. Timothy Shea, a well-known west side politician, asked how the blind from all over the State could not come and be paid this morning.

"In about the same way that voters cannot vote except where they live" he was told. "We know our friends."

The recipients of this bounty are placed on the pay roll after a careful examination by the Commissioners, to whom the worth of the applicant is proved by the affidavits of two respectable citizens, conversant with his life and industry.

The triangular plot of ground facing the Cooper Union is to have placed upon it a statue of the great philanthropist. To complete this honor to one whose memory is revered by those for whom he has done so much in opening up a way to knowledge without cost it is proposed to have the Legislature give to the place the name of Cooper Park.

Paul Du Chaillu has gone to Europe in search of other matter for the completion of his book, "The Viking Age." He carried with him a chest filled with the manuscript of his new work. He will go to Denmark to visit the harbor from which it is supposed Canute sailed on his great expedition.

The work will be a history of the earlier English speaking people of their settlements, migrations, conquests, religions and their influence on the human race. The facts will be drawn from Scandinavian rather than Anglo-Saxon sources. The work will show how the early English people lived. Mr. Du Chaillu maintains that Persia was the cradle of the early English speaking people.

MANHATTAN.

The People Won.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—In 1879 a town was founded at Eureka Springs, Ark., and for nearly a year nothing was done to give any prospects for future success, but in 1880 upward of four thousand persons settled there, and now the number of inhabitants is ten thousand. Outside parties pre-empted certain lands within the city limits and laid out building lots. At the same time they gave out a report that the waters there possessed great curative properties and thereby, they claim, caused heavy emigration and caused property to sell rapidly and increase in value. The question arose, who owned the town, the people who have gone there and made the place what it really is, or those who pre-empted a large portion of the town sites and now wish to sell them at high figures. The commissioners of the land office decided in favor of the former.

POSTMASTER GENERAL GRESHAM is entitled to praise for his vigorous action against the transaction of postal money order business by the Louisiana Lottery Company. In July, 1876, Congress passed an act providing that "no letter or circular concerning lotteries, so-called gift concert, or other similar enterprises offering prizes, shall be carried in the mail." Under this act D. M. K. y., occupant of the Postmaster General's office under R. B. Hayes, issued an order forbidding the postmaster at New Orleans to pay the postal money order drawn to the order of the lottery company. Shortly after, however, Mr. Key issued another order, temporarily suspending the first, and nothing has since been done in the matter, until now. It is hoped that Judge Gresham has more grit than Judge Key possessed, and that he will not feel called upon to a te his opinion or "suspend" his order. Ex-Secretary Belknap appears as counsel for the lottery company.

The Little Vesuvius in Kentucky.

Harrodsburg Enterprise.
 This sight possesses a charm from the danger it menaces; and its refusal to be choked out or drowned out. It is situated seven miles from Danville, on the Cincinnati Southern railroad. A watchman is kept day and night as the keeper of this unruly monstrosity. The sinking track is constantly kept raised. Seven weeks ago these subterranean fires showed themselves. The embankment—about twenty feet perpendicularly—is made of slate rock from a neighboring cut, and this rock impregnated with petroleum, and set on fire by some burning crosssties is the fuel of this slate pit. The dense volumes of smoke that stream from a hundred narrow winding openings smells unbearably of burning oil. On the west side of the track a large yawning aperture reveals the glowing fearful heat, and the depressing influence of the thick, oily sulphurous smoke is felt. Some trees near look like frost had browned them. A gentleman's garden, close by, has been blighted, and he can bear it no longer and will move. There is no abatement in the fire, which shows the amount of oil within to be very great. The long, dark, scorched streams are bordered by sulphur spars also one of the component parts of the slate.

Questioning the Paupers.

New York, July 21.—Michael McHugo arrived at Castle Garden in the steamer England from Liverpool. He is sixty years old and has been a paralytic for thirty years. He testified that his nephew, P. J. McHugo, of Brookfield, N. Y., paid his passage here and also executed an indemnity to the Commissioners of Emigration in $400 that Michael would not become a public charge. Commissioner Taintor decided that the man is liable to become a public charge, and he will accordingly be sent back to Galway, Ireland.

John Fallow, eighteen years old, a cripple, also arrived in the steamer England. He testified that a relative residing in Jones City, Iowa, paid his passage here. He exhibited an indemnity bond executed by his relative in $500 which the Commissioners concluded was a sufficient guarantee that he would not become a public charge and he was allowed to depart for his destination.

Hair Factory Burned.

CINCINNATI, July 21.—The curled hair factory of A. D. Bullock & Co., this city, one of the largest in the country, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $200,000, on which there is a partial insurance. One hundred and fifty operatives are thrown out of employment.

Fashion Notes.

Paniers are on the increase. Basket bonnets grow in favor. White dresses of all kinds are worn. The short puffed sleeve is coming in vogue for evening dresses.

The Japanese fete in Paris has given an impetus in the direction of Japanese costume.

In Paris, the tournure is growing into a cinline, and often hoops are worn under short skirts.

When the material permits, the flounce scalloped into the form of dog-tooth moulding is most effective.

Dark blue and combinations of white and blue and blue and red are the popular colors for bathing suits.

The Louis XV. costume and everything which pertains to the Pompadour period is more than ever in vogue.

Black drapery must be ample, whether it descends below the larger puff or falls straight to the bottom of the skirt.

Paniers are short and full, made in every variety of shape and often open over the middle of the front breadth.

Underskirts are made very simple, the most frequent trimming consisting of a simple pleating or full ruche around the bottom.

The oil silk mob cap is the best protection for the hair while bathing, but above it the coarse straw hat should always be worn.

Single colored muslins, in blue, pink, ecru, apple green, and lilac, and trimmed with lace and ribbon, form the prettiest of summer costumes.

Speak gently; especially to the big man with a round head and a square neck and two big fists, like ancient stone hammers. Speak gently to him. You may touch some long hidden chord of sympathy in his hardened breast, that may cause him to pass you by uncrushed. But the little white faced man on crutches—oh, you may sass him all the way round the block.—Hawkeye.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

COL. T. Z. MORROW, the Republican candidate for Governor, spoke at the Court House last Saturday night. His speech was well received by those present.

MRS. MARY E. WALLINGFORD, of the Lewisburg neighborhood has sent to this office two curiosities in the shape of eggs. They are of the ordinary size but very irregular in shape.

The Emmet Rifles will spend the summer season at the "Fitzgerald House," at the head of Market street, this city. They remain on duty, we understand, until September 4th, the day fixed upon for the execution of Bulger.

MESSRS. J. C. OWENS & Co., proprietors of the Maysville Coal Elevators, have just received 100 tons of the celebrated Old Lee anthracite coal for base burning stoves, which they propose to sell at $8.50 a ton, delivered.

KATE MCALISTER, was up before his honor, Mayor January, last Saturday on a charge of using obscene language on the streets. The warrant was sworn out by Kate's sister. The court adjudged her guilty and fined her $5 and costs.

We take pleasure in reprinting the following, which appeared in the Frankfort Yeoman:

The finest patent flour we have used up to this time was manufactured by Robinson & Co., at Maysville. It is branded "Old Gold," and is the whitest, lightest and sweetest we have ever tried. No such bread as it makes has ever been on our table.

The new society lately organized at Camp Sam. Riley is prospering. Several new members have been initiated since our last notice. For the benefit of those who think of joining we will say the initiation ceremonies are very elevating. We speak from experience.

MR. W. W. LYNCH has given us the dimensions of a pair of shoes lately made for Miss Fannie Wells, who resides in Ohio. They were 18 1/2 inches long, 7 1/2 inches wide, and have a heel 5 inches square. The lady is 51 years old, five feet high, and weighs 100 pounds.

A LIVELY competition is being carried on at the present time between the steamer Ohio, of the White Collar Line, and some of the regular Pittsburg boats. Passengers were transported from Pittsburg to Cincinnati last week for the small sum of three dollars and fifty cents.

A boy asked a man, "Please, sir, what is the time?" He answered, "The time to noon is just one-fourth of the time since 5 o'clock; now, my little man, if you will tell me the correct time I'll give you a silver dime." What should his answer have been so as to claim the dime?

Death of Dr. Howard Farrow.
Dr. Howard Farrow, who was formerly associated with Dr. James Shackelford, of this city, died Saturday morning last at his father's home, near Farrow's Mills. He was a young physician with a promising future before him, and made many friends while residing in this city, who will be grieved to hear of his death.

TWENTY-TWO years ago, this month, the Cobb family were murdered near this city by Charles Collins, and on the 26th day of September he was executed for the crime. The hanging took place on the road leading from East Maysville to the Flemingsburg turnpike. The Mason Rifles, under the command of Captain Charles G. Cady, were present and acted as a guard to the prisoner.

A DRAY-DRIVER on Saturday accidentally spilled a barrel of slop on Second street and of course the city hogs had a picnic. An old roofer who had been attending to business in the lower part of town arrived too late for the feast and expressed his disappointment in a most becoming manner, and without the slightest regard for the feelings of a leading councilman who happened to be near by at the time.

THE magnificent side-wheel steamer Reuben R. Springer, arrived at this point Sunday afternoon between three and four o'clock, with a crowd of excursionists from the Queen City, numbering about five or six hundred. The crowd was orderly and well behaved while in this city, no disturbance of any kind occurring that we have heard of. After remaining at our wharf about half an hour, the steamer started on her return trip.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Ed. Cook, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday in this place.

Mr. John G. Brodt, of Hamilton, O., is visiting relatives this city.

Mr. Jeff. Henry visited his family in the "State of Lewis," Sunday.

Miss Dora Mockbee, of Ripley, is visiting Miss Luella C. Goldsberry.

Miss Louisa Cablish, of Newport, Ky., was visiting relatives in Maysville, Sunday.

Miss Belle Moorehouse, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is the guest of Miss Cone, of Grant street.

Miss Ida Bliss, of Cincinnati, and Mr. and Mrs. Simon Nelson are stopping at the Hotel.

Mr. Ed. Glen, of Ironton, was called to this city last Saturday by the serious illness his wife.

Mrs. Julia Harding, of Aberdeen, O., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Stephens, of East Maysville.

Mrs. John Cablish, formerly of this city, but now of Newport, Ky., is visiting her relatives in this city.

Mr. J. P. Singleton, special agent of the Union Insurance Company was in the city this morning on business.

Hon. W. Vaughn Prather was in Maysville on Saturday and called to see his old friends of the BULLETIN.

Mrs. Annie Elston, of Cincinnati, O., accompanied by her son and daughter, is visiting friends in this city and vicinity.

Messrs. Adolph and Charles Schrieber, who have been in this city for a few days on business, returned to their home at Cincinnati to-day.

Mr. — Rash, of Tollesboro, Ky., was brought to this city this morning and was sent to the Lexington asylum in charge of Dr. Robert Taylor.

Mr. N. B. Marsh, formerly of this city, but now with C. R. Mabley & Co., the Mammoth clothiers of Cincinnati, is in town on a week's vacation, visiting friends and relations.

The following Maysvillians are enjoying the cool mountain breezes at Escalopia Springs, viz: Richard Dawson, Messrs. John Zech, S. B. Poyntz, John Hunt, George Keith, Ollie Poyntz, John Poyntz, Charleton Clift, Robert Owens, Frank Wheatley, Mowell Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blatterman, Mrs. John Pearce and Misses Lizzie Moores and Judith Keith.

TIMBERLAKE, the Lexington rapist, was tried, convicted and executed in about two months and sixteen days from the time he committed the brutal crime for which he was punished. Bulger, the rape fiend now incarcerated in the county jail, waiting the execution of the death sentence, was tried, convicted and sentenced in less than one month from the day on which he perpetrated his fiendish crime, and the time fixed upon for his execution is just about two and a half months from the day on which his victim was so horribly outraged. This promptness on the part of the officers of the law in these two cases merits the highest commendation from the press and the people. Were the same course pursued against all violators of the law, criminals would be fewer in number, crimes less frequent. The fate which Timberlake has met, and which awaits Bulger, should serve as a warning to all lustful brutes who may be lurking within our borders.

Drowned.
Two of the excursionists on the R. R. Springer, Sunday, were drowned just after the steamer left New Richmond on her up trip. We were unable to learn the names of the parties. They were accidentally precipitated into the water from the swinging stage plank and were drowned before assistance could be rendered. A third party who fell into the water at the same time was rescued.

Excursion Rates.
On July 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th, the Kentucky Central Railroad will sell round trip tickets to the "Reunion of the Survivors of Gen. John Morgan's Command," at Lexington, at excursion rates. Tickets good returning on the 28th.

HALLS Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer never fails in restoring gray hair to its color, lustre, and vitality. Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer, of Massachusetts, endorses it, and all who give it a fair trial unite in grateful testimony to its many virtues.

BLIS

Of News Picked up in By-Places.

Cape May hotel proprietors offer very low rates to popular military organizations, and thus secure music, spectacle, animation, and plenty of dancing partners for their girls.

A man traveled hastily from San Francisco to Omaha, on hearing that he had been "remembered" in his father's will, and the report proved true, but the sum of the bequest was one dollar.

The Austro-Hungarian bill for workmen's insurance against sickness renders insurance obligatory of all manual laborers, at a cost of 1 1/2 to 2 per cent. of their wages. Employers also pay something.

Heath, Auditor of St. Louis, went to prison for three years for stealing public money. His wife obtained the divorce to which the law entitled her on account of his felony; but when he was released a few days ago, she married him.

Prof. Remsen, of the Johns Hopkins Laboratory, deems the study of chemistry as bracing for the morals as for the mind. "I believe," says he "that frequent practice in qualitative and quantitative analysis has a tendency to develop honesty."

Munk Murphy, a brakeman, with a claim to eccentricity, has established it by riding into Boston coiled up on the truck under a car, to win a bet that he could not steal a passage. Lacking a flag to wave in token of victory, he took off his shirt and flung it to the breeze.

Atlantic City is described this season as "just what it pretends to be—no gloss, no veneering, no shams, its complexion not enamelled, a regular freckle-faced, red-haired, hearty free-and-easy Jersey favorite"—but is lacking in the fashionable style which characterizes Long Branch and Newport.

The fund of $10,000 raised in Cincinnati for a Garfield monument is awaiting use for that purpose, and drawing interest meanwhile at four per cent. The committee in charge will soon meet and decide upon a location. Six artists have been given until August 1st to prepare models, and shortly after that date one will be selected, and the contract for it made by the committee.

Concealed Weapons.

From the South Kentuckian
In an editorial about concealed deadly weapons, the Frankfort Yeoman has this to say:

"It has sometimes occurred to us that a better plan would be to abolish all laws against carrying concealed weapons, and give more attention to the enforcement of penalties for using them unlawfully. If it was generally understood that every man was armed and able to defend himself, it might have the effect to put an end to homicide, and bring us back to decency and order."

It is rather a bold position to take, but there is no question that such a law would be to the interests of the better class of citizens who do not like to violate the law. The roughs are not deterred or restrained by the law, and good citizens frequently lose their lives because they have no weapon of defense when attacked by assassins.

THROUGH THE AIR.

An Aeronautic Scheme for the Transportation of Freight and Passengers.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 21.—The Aerial Navigation Company of Chicago has been incorporated to transport passengers and freight through the air. Two millions of dollars comprise the capital stock of the new corporation, and each share to be sold at $200. The total number of shares is to be 20,000. The immense amount of capital stock, together with the comparatively small number of shares is evidence that the scheme is something more than an aggregation of intangible ideas, and from the information gleaned it is probable something more will be heard of the "Aerial Navigation Company" in the near future. It is asserted that the machines to be manufactured by this company are a perfection of the one tested at Hartford, Conn., nearly two years ago, which at that time attracted such widespread interest. Immediate steps are to be taken toward the manufacture of a monster machine of great power and capacity, and if the inventors of the machine are not over-enthusiastic it will be but a few months before the scientific and inventive world will be electrified by the announcement of attained perfection in aerial navigation.

Big Failures.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 21.—The Manchester Iron & Steel Company, with a capital stock of $500,000, have assigned to W. W. Martin, of Allegheny City, and Henry Stanton, of New York. Liabilities, $800,000.

NEW YORK, July 21.—E. W. Holbrook & Co., cotton goods manufacturers and converters of cotton goods, have made an assignment. Their liabilities are about $725,000, with preferences amounting to $67,000. Their losses from manufacturing exceed $350,000, which have been somewhat increased by outside transactions. The failure is a very great surprise in every department of the trade.

Cattle Fever.

Boston, July 22.—There are several cases of Texas fever among Texas cattle brought to Worcester. It is stated the board of cattle commissioners will issue an order forbidding the bringing of any more of these cattle into the state.
